

A Resolution on Special Event Parking in Academic Building Parking Lots
First Reading, 11/15/2010

Whereas, during special events, many academic building parking lots are closed to faculty unless they pay an extra $5.00 fee; and,

Whereas faculty are often teaching, doing research, or are attending faculty senate representing the Ohio University faculty during such events; and,

Whereas the core mission of Ohio University is primarily carried out by the faculty;

Therefore be it resolved that faculty with appropriate faculty parking tags may park as usual in designated parking areas regardless of which special event is taking place.
